

SAFETY CLOTHING

High-visibility clothing is a type of personal protection equipment (PPE) most of the population is familiar with as it is commonly worn for a wide range of jobs. The main purpose for wearing hi-vis clothing is the safety it offers its wearers. It is proven to prevent accidents and fatalities in potentially dangerous environments, especially in low light or where there are large vehicles moving around, such as construction and industrial areas. It is important to replace hi-vis apparel regularly as worn and dirty clothing can result in less visibility and a higher likelihood of accidents.

WHEN IS IT RECOMMENDED THAT WORKERS WEAR HI-VIS CLOTHING?

- when working in close contact with any type of machinery
- when working in low light, inclement weather or at night
- when working near public traffic or roadways
- when working in a public safety capacity
